The Pennsylvania Immigration Resource Center (PIRC) has named attorney John “J.” Quain its “Light of Liberty Pro Bono Attorney” for 2022. The prestigious award is bestowed annually on the organization’s top pro bono attorney, honoring his/her exceptional service and support. PIRC, based in York, Pa., provides free legal services and education to help immigrants obtain or protect their legal status. Quain routinely volunteers with PIRC helping immigrants and their families in Pennsylvania receive legal aid they would not have access to otherwise. In particular, Quain dedicated his time to a pro bono program which helps immigrants obtain their U visas. A Harrisburg native, Quain is an attorney in the Barley Snyder Litigation and Finance & Creditors’ Rights practice groups. In addition to his work with PIRC, Quain serves as the secretary of the board of directors for the Historic Harrisburg Association and the treasurer of the Dauphin County Bar Association Young Lawyers Section.

Belco Community Credit Union announces the promotion of Craig Connelly, former Branch Manager for Belco’s Lebanon location, to Business Development Manager for the $891m asset-sized financial institution. In his new role, Craig will lead Belco’s efforts to be recognized as the partner of choice for businesses and members in the communities Belco serves...Belco Community Credit Union’s newest, full-service branch will open for business in Enola on Thursday, September 22, 2022. The brand-new facility is located at 4600 Mt. Zion Drive, at the intersection of Wertzville Road and Technology Drive, near UPMC’s new West Shore Hospital. It is Belco’s 15th branch in south central Pennsylvania, and its 5th in Cumberland County. “We are looking forward to serving members at this location, particularly because of the feedback we’ve already received on the convenience of this new branch,” says Paul Perini III, Senior Vice President of Retail Sales & Service. The branch will feature a mix of traditional teller pods and Belco’s new Interactive Teller Machine (ITM) technology. “ITMs allow members to do most of the transactions they would typically go to a teller window for,” says Perini. “So for those who prefer this technology, they can do their transactions from the drive-thru without assistance.” For more information about Belco, please visit www.belco.org

Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Capital Region (BBBSCR) is holding its fifth Over the Edge fundraiser on Friday, October 14th from 10am-5pm. Over the Edge participants will rappel a 21-story descent from the rooftop of the Fulton Bank building to the sidewalk of Locust Street. Event participants raise funds to provide ongoing support for BBBSCR’s one-to-one youth mentoring programs. Local companies and organizations are participating through the “Toss Your Boss” sponsorship and other engagement levels. Several police officers volunteering in BBBSCR’s “Bigs in BlueSM” program will be participating in the rappel. Register to rappel or sponsor the event at CAPBIGS.ORG.

Join the Cumberland Area Economic Development Corporation Cumberland County Workforce Collaborative to discuss the labor shortage we’re experiencing here and nationwide. Employers and higher education are already feeling the pain but the people shortage is only projected to get worse. So how did we get here? What are the economic ramifications? And is there anything we can do about it? Lightcast presents “The Demographic Drought” which answers these questions by analyzing past, present, and future workforces. Lightcast is the world’s leading authority on job skills, workforce talent, and labor market data helping to fuel community success. They have a team of economists and labor market analysts that utilize four data sources to provide the most complete, nuanced, up-to-date view of the labor market. The event will take place on November 2nd and run from 8-9 AM: Networking & Breakfast and 9-11 AM: Presentations. Click here to register.

F&M Trust has a new place to call home. The Franklin County-based community bank held a ribbon-cutting ceremony Wednesday to celebrate the opening of its new corporate headquarters in the Chambers-5 Business Park. The renovated 67,000-square-foot building at 1500 Nitterhouse Drive sits on 11 acres and is home to 150 employees with the capacity to accommodate future growth. F&M Trust is maintaining its Memorial Square community office and continues to serve customers in downtown Chambersburg as it has since its founding in 1906.

Kevin Kulp of the Harrisburg Senators accepted the “Business Partner of the Year Award” from Steve Hassinger of Central Penn College at an awards breakfast that attracted close to 150 students, professors, staff, and business partners. The Senators partnered with the college to allow the CPC baseball team to use FNB field as their home field, a ballfield where many Major League players got their start.

Herbert, Rowland & Grubic, Inc. (HRG) announced a new Strategic Management & Capital Solutions division today. The group will offer a broad range of financial, management, and strategic planning services to municipalities and municipal authorities. HRG has been helping clients fund their projects and develop long-range capital plans for many years. They are a recognized expert in structuring municipal authorities, calculating the cost of service, and determining their value. Now the firm will expand its service offerings related to revenue generation, operational streamlining, technology solutions, and organization management planning. Adrienne Vicari, the Strategic Management & Capital Solutions practice area leader, says, “The role of municipal and authority managers is becoming more complex every day, and they need a broad range of expertise to help them make decisions. As a trusted partner to more than 100 municipalities, we have been assisting with many of these decisions already, but now we’re formalizing our commitment and bringing on the brightest minds to guide them.”
